

URGENT REQUIREMENT ON BEHALF OF OUR CLIENT SCOFFS

The name derives from the quintessentially British term 'to eat (food) fast'.

"She scoffed down several chops!"

The modern food offering demands an intensity of tastes, good value, healthy eating with minimal time for consumption. People need to eat but the speed of modern life allows less and less time to sit and enjoy. SCOFFS brings an opportunity to accommodate this intensity. The menu is made up of traditional ingredients formed into bites of tastiness, of nutrition and all at prices that suggest value for the customer.
